Speaker made good eye contact			X
Speaker was clear & understandable				X
Talk was well-timed and organized too much time on background & prior work.				X
Slides were legible and visually appealing				X
Slides used clear & appropriate figures clipart was disappointing			X
Slides were not cluttered/contained appropriate amount of text				X
Talk conveyed research results well				X

Describe one strength of the slides:

• material was logically organized & presented, most slides had a reasonable amount of text.

Suggest one way to make the slides better:

• why the puzzle image on slide? Figures/illustrations should directly relate to material being presented.
 • an example instead of just text on slide 3-4 would have been helpful! (this occurred on slide 5, but really would have been good during defs)

List one thing the speaker did particularly well:

Presented very technical material without getting bogged down in details on slide. Use of filler words (uh, um) was minimal.

• math on later slides needed to be better "translated" for non experts.

Describe one way the speaker could improve:

You looked up at your slides on the projector screen too much - this made it hard to hear you.

Describe one strength of the slides:

Good highlighting on bullets, (although not always clear what colors signify). Good use of incremental content presentation

Suggest one way to make the slides better:

Definition slides needed some figures

List one thing the speaker did particularly well:

Good, even pace. Not too many slides, kept in time

Describe one way the speaker could improve:

"Players are rational, intelligent, selfish" on slides

→ Should define if mentioned. Doesn't need to be on-slide definition, but audience needs intuition

Describe one strength of the slides:

~~Exhaustive~~ ^{made} exhaustive information ~~the~~ ^{the} example ~~good~~ well-motivated

Suggest one way to make the slides better:

• We had multiple slides in a row w/ no image

List one thing the speaker did particularly well:

Good explanation of quadratic programming and how they used it.

Describe one way the speaker could improve:

Very quiet and refers to slide (looking away) too often. I think having notes in hand can help (check those rather than turning back to audience).

Describe one strength of the slides:

Using colors to pull out λ_1 and λ_2

Suggest one way to make the slides better:

Some of the slides introduced a lot of text at once.

List one thing the speaker did particularly well:

Linfeng did a good job taking his time explaining the slides

Describe one way the speaker could improve:

~~Try not to turn your back to the~~

Talking towards the audience a bit more.

Describe one strength of the slides:

All relevant definitions appear to have been included.

Suggest one way to make the slides better:

Slides are heavy on mathematical notation, matrices, etc. Including a few visual examples of the problem would help convey research concepts.

List one thing the speaker did particularly well:

Speaker clearly covered results and discussed content presented on slides.

Describe one way the speaker could improve:

Speak a little louder and spend less time looking back to slides.
